

MORNING APPEAL.

SUNDAY JANUARY 5

A TRAITORS FATE.

France has a way of dealing with its traitors that is highly theatrical and effective.

Captain W. Fred Dreyfus of the Fourteenth Regiment of Artillery, recently attached to the general staff of the French army, who was tried by court-martial and convicted of treason in disclosing important War Office documents to foreigners and sentenced to deportation and imprisonment for life in a fortress, was publicly degraded yesterday in front of the Military school of Paris. Dreyfus turned deadly pale as he signed the prison register. When this formality was gone through two guardians with revolvers escorted him to a closed military wagon, which was surrounded by guards with drawn swords. Dreyfus was driven to the Military school. The route was lined by thousands.

On arrival at the school Dreyfus was placed in an improvised cell. Detachments from every branch of the garrison of Paris began assembling in Place de Fontaineau and 9 a. m. fully 3,000 troops were ranged about a quadrangle. At 9 Dreyfus was conducted to the square and led before General Darres, in command of the troops and the sentence of the court martial was read to the prisoner.

The General then said: "You are adjudged unworthy to bear arms. In the name of the French people I degrade you." General Darres gave a sharp word of command and a non-commissioned officer of the Republican Guard approached Dreyfus. The infantry presented arms, the cavalry presented swords and there was a long solemn roar from the massed drum corps.

Dreyfus started back as the non-commissioned officer touched him, and shouted: "I am innocent. I swear it. Vive la France."

The non-commissioned officer then tore off Dreyfus's epaulets and all distinctive marks of his rank as Captain of Artillery, ending with breaking the prisoner's sword in two, and throwing the two halves at his feet.

Dreyfus was then marched bareheaded around the entire square in front of the troops. He was greatly excited, and shouted repeatedly: "I am innocent; I swear it."

But every time the prisoner spoke, in accordance with orders previously issued, his voice was drowned by the roll of drums. As Dreyfus passed in front of the place occupied by representatives of the press, he shouted: "Tell the whole of France I am innocent." This caused some officers of the army reserve, standing near, to retort: "Down with Judas; silence the traitor."

It was evident that Dreyfus felt these words keenly, for he turned around sharply and faced the officers in a threatening manner, but before he could do or say anything further he was seized by soldiers and forced to continue his humiliating march around the square.

The crowd outside of the square, on hearing the prisoner's voice, when he protested his innocence, raised fierce cries of "Death to the traitor!" The cries of the populace were accompanied by shrill whistlings, peculiar to Parisian mobs.

When the proceedings were ended, Dreyfus was handcuffed, taken to the prison van and driven to the ordinary prison, escorted by a squad of gendarmes amid cries of "Death to the traitor."

THE TIME OF CHANGE.

A good many people are impatient to know when the new State officers will qualify. Many of the Silver men look forward with a keen anticipation to the time when the State Government will change. There is no use getting impatient about these little matters. It will all come round in time and the time is not far off.

Many have labored under the impression that the Silver men should have all been on deck on the first of January, but the Constitution of the State specifically provides that the new officers including the Governor shall qualify the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January. They have all filed their bonds and on Tuesday next they will qualify and assume the duties of their offices. Under the new law they will thus be comfortably fitted in their seats and everything in good working order when the Legislature meets on the 21st.

Have a little patience gentlemen and the day will dawn. On Tuesday next the administration of this State will be straight Silver from Governor to Janitor.

AN APOLOGY.

For several weeks past the APPEAL has caused more profanity in this county than legally belongs to this section. It was all because the paper was using type that had seen two campaigns. The next issue of the APPEAL will be printed with new type and in a condition to be read without glasses.

We extend our thanks to the long suffering community for the forbearance they have shown us to date.

Mrs. M. H. D. Young was asked for an advertisement for the Christmas Examination by the ladies who are running that issue of the paper for the benefit of charity. She immediately replied that she could take an entire page of the paper and that all she desired to have printed thereon was this:

"THE CHRONICLE HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION."

It remains to be seen whether the offer will be accepted or not.

Later—the ad was not printed.

The Reveille says that a sale of some of the Kennedy mines is about to be made and the camp will rally from its late set back.
